KILKENNY CINEMA.

A selection of high class films has been arranged for next week at the Cinema, beginning on Monday with the presentation of Haddon Chamber's popular novel, "The Idler," and a series of other interesting pictures. "Four Grains of Rice," an exciting drama, will be the leading feature of the programme on Wednesday and Thursday nights, and on the two following nights the fourth episode of "Terence O'Rourke" ("A Captain of Villiany") will be produced. An announcement of much interest to Cinema patrons is made in our advertising columns this week to the effect that "O'Neill of the Glen," the first Irish film ever produced, will be shown at an early date.
