KILKENNY CINEMA.

Attention is directed to the announcement that next week at the Kilkenny Cinema there will be a resumption of that highly fascinating serial, "The Broken Coin," which, like so many other things, was interrupted by the Rebellion in Easter week. At that time the story was increasing in interest, and the many patrons who have witnessed the thirteen episodes already shown will welcome its resumption. The other pictures comprising the programme for next week include "A Hero of the Yser," a thrilling story of the great war, in three reels, and a pair of two-part Keystone comics, one of which features the now popular "Fatty."
